

The map displays the Los Angeles metropolitan area with a grid of dashed lines representing a coordinate system. Major roads and highways are shown as solid black lines. The distribution of 1000 simulated locations is represented by circles of varying sizes and colors. The circles are concentrated in the central urban area, particularly in the downtown region, where they are larger and more numerous. The colors of the circles range from blue to purple to grey, indicating different categories or values. The distribution is also spread out along the major roads and highways, particularly in the northern and eastern parts of the map. The background is a light grey color, and the overall map is oriented with North at the top.
